

Good work

In school we have acknowledged the efforts of 11 children who have really impressed me this half term with their good work. They have all been really determined in their efforts to do well and I hope that they will keep it up next half term.

Best wishes for the future!

Today, we say goodbye to Mrs Charnock our School Business Manager. She has worked at our school for ten years and contributed so much whilst being here. We would like to thank her for her hard work and wish her well as she moves onto her exciting new job in Manchester.

Winter Fayre

On Friday 29th November at 2.30pm we will be having our Winter Fayre in the hall.

Thank-you for your donations today for

'Inside Out Day'. On Friday 15th November we will be having a non-uniform day and we would like children to bring in chocolate.

October Half- term

We finish school today and return on Monday 4th November at 8.50am.

Breakfast club will open at 8am as normal.

How much do you know about the history of Oldham? Who was Annie Kenney?

Annie Kenney

Annie Kenney is a famous person from Saddleworth, Oldham. She was a poor suffragette who struggled with money. She wanted all women to be able to vote. Even though she did lots of hard work, not many people know her.

Early Life

Annie Kenney was born on the 13th September 1870. She lived in Saddleworth, Oldham. Annie, at the age of 10, worked at the cotton mill part time, and at the age of 13, she worked full time.

Life as a Suffragette

Annie Kenney became a suffragette in 1905 after her mother died. Her first time in jail was for three days because she interrupted a meeting with Winston Churchill. She was jailed 13 times, once for spitting at a policeman.

Legacy

Annie Kenney died on the 9th July 1953. People remember her because of all her hard work being a suffragette and wanting women to vote. People have built a statue of Annie Kenney in Oldham to remember her.
