Which is the most important part of a church:

the building or its people?

What would your response be to the question above? Before you decide look at these points to help you make a decision and give meaningful reasons to your answer.

Church buildings are designed to	Many Christians choose to meet and inspire worshippers and to help them	worship in places other than church focus.	buildings.
The layout of church buildings helps	Many Christians in other parts of the worshippers and leaders communicate,	world live far from churches or in sing, pray, speak, listen etc.	poor areas with no church buildings.
Church buildings are a focal point for	Non-religious people may find places
Christian events and activities in	where they can reflect, remember,
communities.	give thanks or discuss beliefs.

I think___