Food Glorious Food
Imagine that Mrs Harrison has left and you are in charge of the school kitchen!
What delights would you serve to the wonderful children at Broadfield?
Would it be CHOCOLATE flavoured Pizza and McDonalds Chips? What would we have for dessert?
What about our drinks?
Fizzy pop or Milkshake? You decide!!

We have been looking at Nonsense poems like the Ning Nang Nong? Have a go at writing your own?? Use Twinkl to help with poetry, or write your own rhyming couplets, then use them to make a nonsense poem!

Instructions.

Write a set of instruction to an alien telling him how to wash his hands properly. Think of all we have learnt this week and include how long he should wash for.

Writing task Menu

Try to complete some of these tasks whilst at home.

You can also make up a new task of your own to share with the class when we return to school.

English focus

Interview your mum dad or carer or grandparents (you can do this over the phone) What do they remember about you as a baby? What did you like or dislike? What made you laugh/ cry? What are the best bits, what are they proud of, what do they remember about you as a baby?

English Tasks

Write to an alien on another planet and explain why our schools are closed and what we have been doing to keep ourselves safe here on planet Earth

Imagine you are Florence

Nightingale or one of the male doctors she worked with. Write a letter to the Queen telling her about the conditions of the hospital and the lack of hygiene. Why is it important and what does she need to change in the hospitals to keep people safe?

'Diary of a BROADFIELD KID'

Write what it is like to be a child at Broadfield School.
What's great (and what's not so great?) What rules would you change if you got to be Mrs Stennett for the day.
What treat s would the children get and what would punishment would you give to us teachers if they got cross?

Write a diary entry as if you are Samuel Peeps. What did you think when you woke up and saw all the smoke? What did it look like? How did you feel?