

TUESDAY MODAL VERBS: SILVER.

1. Underline all the modal verbs in these sentences.

- a) Sam knew that he ought to eat the vegetables on his plate.
- b) Lisa just rang to say she will be attending the party.
- c) On Sunday, it might rain or even snow!
- d) Should we go on a long walk tomorrow?

Hint!

We use modal verbs to show if we believe something is certain, probable or possible.

Modal verbs:

can, will, must, shall, may, should, could, would, ought to, might, have to

2. Rearrange these letters to make modal verbs and then put it into a sentence to show its meaning.

l l w l =

--	--	--	--

---

o l w u d =

--	--	--	--	--

---

i g t m h =

--	--	--	--	--

---

3. Put the modal verbs from these sentences into the correct box.

Jane will do her homework as soon as she gets home from school.

Harry might go to the park or he might stay in and play on his X Box.

might	will
Most certain	Least certain

Hint!

You can make these modal verbs have the opposite meaning.

Example:

can → can't must → mustn't

4. Rewrite the contracted forms of these modal verbs in full on the lines underneath.

When they arrived at the swimming pool, they were told they mustn't dive into the water and they couldn't wear brightly-coloured swimming costumes. They knew they shouldn't break the rules but they did love to dive!

_____

_____

5. Match these modal verbs to their opposites:

must could would will should wouldn't won't shouldn't couldn't mustn't

Challenge!

Which of these sentences is the least certain?

This summer, we might travel to Spain.

Sasha must arrive at school for 8.30am.

The sign said that you won't be able to use your mobile phone.

The teacher said they could wear their own clothes.
