

Return to School

This week, we have had our Year 6, Year 1 and our key worker children in school, next week our pupils in Reception will be returning and we look forward to seeing them. We continue to ensure that our children feel safe and our risk assessments are regularly reviewed. So many of the children have said that they feel safe and are happy to be back in school. Below, are some quotes from children in Year 6 who returned on June 10th.

I am glad that I have come back to school because I am not home and bored. I am in school where I can see my friends but sadly, we have to stay 2 metres away.

I feel happy that I came back to school because it has been exciting and fun.

I am glad that I came back because I get to see my friends.

I was nervous at first but it was worth it. I have enjoyed it. I am actually glad to be back to school and see my teachers.

I am actually glad to be back to school and see my teachers.

When I first came back to school, my parents were worried. I was happy to come back. I was happy to see my friends. The bad part is that we are not allowed to be in Elm class. I cannot see my friends in Elm class.

Creative Writing Competition

‘Living through Lockdown’

Oldham Council is inviting schools to take part in a creative writing competition to capture the views and opinions of students during the Covid-19 Pandemic.

Tell us about:

KS2 / KS3 - Your feelings and experiences

KS4 - What have you learned about yourself or your community?

Post 16 - What would you want to ‘new normal’ to look like in Oldham?

Growing up during lockdown is a unique experience, and we want to capture and learn from our young people. Our Youth Council will review submissions and look at how we use this to build for the future.

Students are invited to submit a digital single A4 page (max 400 words) of any style of creative writing (poetry, story, song) which will be stored in Oldham Gallery’s Lockdown Museum. Each school should select 5 commended pieces to be considered in the competition final.

£50 voucher with 2 x £20 runners up for each category.

Please email all submissions to karen.rose@oldham.gov.uk by 12pm 17th July.

Please use subject line ‘Writing Competition’ Name age and school must be included in the file name.

Schools should look to review and recommend their submissions 10-17th July.

Jessica the worrier

Jessica was a bit of a worrier and she often was anxious and nervous over the smallest things. She worried about many things. She was worried about the cold. Jessica was really worried about falling down the plughole of her shower! She also worried about a broken ruler.

Then, one day, something decided to visit Earth and that something gave Jessica a really, really huge worry. That worry was called Coronavirus. Jessica was speechless. It was all over the news. They even gave Coronavirus a name (Covid-19). It was too chaotic! People had to social distance 2 metres apart. Hey you 2 metres! They had to stay home, it was boring for Jessica. This all started way back in the frosty winter now, it is bright summer.

Jessica's mum tried to help her with her worries, so did her dad. It was hopeless. Nothing worked. The next day, Jessica went to her Grandma Saidee's house. Grandma Saidee loved Jessica visiting. She made her secret recipe chocolate chip muffin. After Jessica ate the chocolate chip muffins, she went to bed. The second she got in bed she started to worry. So she bravely got up and told Grandma Saidee her worry. "Oh you crazy doughnut!" Grandma said, "There's no need to worry." Then, Grandma Saidee rushed to her bedroom and picked up something. "This is my worry doll," she said. "You can have them. What you have to do is tell the doll your worry when you go to bed. Then put it under your pillow. Something incredible happens next, you will see."

So Jessica went home and told her worry doll her worry and slept very well after all that trouble!
