

The weight of the world

What do you notice (see)?

What do you wonder (questions)?

What can you infer?

The weight of the world

She carried the weight of the world on her shoulders, but there wasn't much further to go. The path she had taken was a difficult one; it had impeded her every step of the way.

Salvation City lay just a few kilometres ahead, and she must summon all of her courage to reach it if she was to save the world...

Questions

Is the picture about a woman dragging a large ball along a road, or is there a deeper meaning behind it? What do you think is happening?

What does having 'the weight of the world on your shoulders' mean?

What does 'salvation' mean? Why is the city in the distance called 'Salvation City'? What will happen when she gets there? Will she ever get there?

In what way is the path impeding her?

Why has the artist made a picture like this? What do you think their message is to people?

Is the weather in the picture significant?

Challenge – Can you draw a picture of one thing YOU could do differently in your life to make the world a better place?