Time to Read - Monday 19 to Sunday 25 October

The Book Trust Time to Read campaign is back for 2020! Their mission is to get families reading together. There are so many ways children can benefit from reading.   It will spark children's imagination, improve language and listening as well as encouraging the development of practical skills such as making new friends and dealing with change. Reading together regularly as a family will create a safe place for children to express themselves, something that children might be especially in need of following the coronavirus outbreak.

At 5.30pm each day, an online picture book will be shared. On Monday 19th October, there will be a reading from the author of the Runaway Pea.

Below are some useful links to enable you to access the campaign.

The Let's Walk Festival

Greater Manchester Walking is delighted to launch the first virtual GM Walking Festival this October!
The Let's Walk Festival will take place between 12th and 25th October 2020, during which time we aim for the residents of Greater Manchester involved in the festival collectively, to walk around the world! That's 25,000 miles in two weeks. Those signing up to be part of the Festival will need to log their steps, time or distance walked each day during 12-25th October to contribute to the Greater Manchester goal. Participants will be able to raise funds for good causes if they choose. The Festival is for new and experienced walkers alike, and participants of all ages, we hope there are goals, and activities that appeal to all.

Parent Governor

We now have a vacancy for a Parent Governor. If you are interested in discussing and making strategic decisions about the school and have the time to attend meetings, then please contact the School Business Manager – Mrs Brown who will give you further details. The closing date is Friday 16th October.

Outdoor Learning

This week, Elm and Oak have spent two days at Castleshaw. The children took part in a range of activities such as canoeing and rock climbing. They thoroughly enjoyed themselves – many of them overcoming their fears and demonstrating some of our Broadfield values. Well done to all!

Remote Learning

By now, you should have received an email with a survey about remote learning. We are trying to improve our provision. Please take time to complete the survey which should only take you 10 minutes. Your feedback is really important to us.

The Angry Volcano

Thick, misty skies cover the small town.
The rocky, rampaging volcano is having a fit.
The lava is holding a race.
Spark, spark!
A firework of the colours, red, orange and yellow spark
From the million miles of rock on the volcano.
Go!
They are sprinting across the twists and turns of the cliffy stone.
Viciously and violently bursts of magma sprout from the ground.
Unsuspecting trees and plants are chocking in the steam.
The red molten rock is pushing through with orange and yellow close behind.
Red lava has reached the town and goes around to explore.
The race is over.
The fiery red hot magma wins the race.
It does a victory dance engulfing everything in its path.
Meanwhile, the volcano has calmed and watches
the blazing town.
The others sigh but know that they will try again next year.
