Community Litter Pick

This year as in previous years, our Eco Council have been really concerned about the amount of litter in our local area. Sadly, despite numerous litter picks this hasn't really improved, particularly in alley ways near our school.

On Wednesday 25th May, our Parent Ambassadors and the Eco Council will be doing another litter pick and it is hoped that they will be joined by other members of the community.

Please come out and join us.

Eid Party Day

A few weeks ago, we had Eid parties in school following Ramadan. All the children really enjoyed themselves and it was good to see them dressed up in their Eid outfits

We do hope that you had a good time with friends and family.

24th September 1916,

Dear Mum and Dad,

I'm sorry I have not sent another letter in a long time but I have been busy with battle, it is looking good but I am worried because the Germans are pretty good. As well as all that I hope you are well also to let you know that I'm all well, not a scratch has harmed me that much. I can't wait to come back home to you both.

The living conditions here are not great at all, the trenches are full of mud and are so mucky. We have been here for a couple of months (4-6 months) now and loads of people have got trench foot. I'm glad I have not got it YET but I might have it in a while. There are constant bombardment, gunshots and people yelling for help. It rains all the time; the battle field is like a big pond with so many insects and rats. I can't sleep much because I wake up to my team screaming because they wake up to the rats eating their flesh on their feet.

I'm scared that because of my boredom I will get shot for being asleep by my team or from the other team for not guarding the trench. I've been in the war for a couple of months now and I have witnessed several accidents happen of soldiers drowning.

Hoping to get another letter back to you soon,

Yours Truly,

Clifton.

We love writing

The children in Upper Key Stage 2 enjoyed learning about World War 1.

As part of their learning, they have done drama, role play and read Dulce et Decorum Est by Wilfred Owen. The pieces of writing are from children in Sycamore class:

"Crash," came a deafening gun shot through the gloomy sky. The trenches had dead animals such as rats and mice. The rats and mice would squeak all night. It smelt like old mouldy cheese that had gone very bad. All of the soldiers had rotten teeth. Their food was disgusting and the biscuit was rock hard. You could break your teeth while eating the biscuit.

It was very hard to sleep because there was mud everywhere and the loud bangs would keep everyone awake. There were no beds to sleep on. The sky was full of smoke that made the air very blurry. Gunshots made the sky a lava red colour. It's like soldiers were dreaming. Whilst they were sleeping the gun shots would destroy their trenches.

Someone shouted out loud "GAS, GAS, QUICK," People were trying to get on the clumsy helmets. If# they didn't get their helmets on in time, they would suffer from the dangerous gas. Someone was still stumbling. It was like someone was dying but moving at the same time. We put him in the wagon and he was choking on his blood. You would not tell anyone in high zest the old lie: Dulce et decorum Est pro
